

Questionnaire for the Identification of Design Problems

The overall goal of this questionnaire is to acquire information about the identification task of design problems. All information collected in this questionnaire will be treated confidentially.

General Information

1. Developer name:

2. Name of the system that you are currently identifying design problems:

Design Problems

3. For each identified design problem, provide us the following information:
- a) Code elements that are affected by the design problem
 - b) Description of the design problem
 - c) Explanation of the reason that makes you believe that the code elements contain a design problem
 - d) Explanation of the drawbacks of having the identified design problem in the affected code elements, if possible.

Problem 1:

Problem 2:

Problem 3:

Problem 4:

Problem 5:

Problem 6:

Add more